ABOUT US

Okavango Kopano Mokoro Community Trust commonly known as "OKMCT" is a trust registered in 1997 with the registrar of deed to carry out community based natural resources management, to promote sustainable utilization of natural resources through direct participation of communities in managing the environment, animals and plant species abundant in their vicinity. The trust offers tourism products and services in a controlled hunting area known as Ng32, an area found in the famous Okavango Delta. Moreover, the aim of the trust is to offer an affordable trip to allow more people to enjoy the delta and to provide more jobs in this disadvantaged, economically impoverished rural areas.
